WITH the ongoing roadworks in Oxford and added congestion caused by the start of the school year, many motorists stuck in slow-moving traffic may be dreaming about living closer to the city centre.

Oxford letting agents Finders Keepers claim to have the answer with a choice of two four-bedroom family homes in North Oxford.

The locations could help beat the traffic by making it easier to reach key Oxford schools and the city centre by foot, bicycle or bus.

The first is a spacious, detached home in Summers Place, which could be the perfect base for a family.

The property has four double bedrooms and three bathrooms.

There are two reception rooms, one with a feature fireplace and a kitchen/ breakfast room with doors to the garden.

It also has a back garden, garage and off-street parking. It is a short cycle ride from Oxford Parkway railway station, Summertown and the city centre.

It is available to let unfurnished at £2,500 per month.

The second property is a recently renovated family home in a Summertown side road, close to shops, schools and the ring road.

The house, in Lonsdale Road, includes four bedrooms and two bathrooms.

A glamorous, extended kitchen has a vaulted ceiling and glazed doors to the garden plus there are two reception rooms, including one with a fireplace and wood-burning stove. There is a low-maintenance back garden and tenants have use of one off-street parking space.

It is available to let, furnished or unfurnished, at £2,995 per month.
